RE: Consulting work of Terry Braverman

I am not a native English speaker and sometimes struggle with expressing my thoughts. I asked Terry to help me with a public presentation I was required to give for a training session. In its initial form, it was not so presentable but was rambling and aimless. Terry inspired me to speak from some of my personal experiences as it related to my topic. His keen and candid direction was just what I needed to give life to an otherwise dull topic (personal financial plan). Terry has an amazing sense of flow when it comes to putting it all together. The presentation went really well. He is a treasure to work with!
